

Arab Studies
Journal

ASJ ANNOUNCES ITS THEMED ISSUE

The 'Body' in Scholarship on the Middle East and North Africa

Volume 12.2 / 13.1

Fall 04 / Spring 05

Contents Include:

Sara Scalenghe, "The Deaf in Ottoman Syria,
16th - 18th Centuries"

Sherine F. Hamdy, "Blinding Ignorance:
Medical Science, Diseased Eyes and Religious Practice in Egypt"

Esmail al-Nashif, "Body Materialization and Community Building Among Palestinian Political Captives"

Lucie Ryzova, "I Am a Whore But I Will Be a Good Mother': On the Production and Consumption of the Female Body in Modern Egypt"

Reviews Include:

Ella Shohat, On Imitation and the Art of Kidnapping: Yigal Nizri's 'Tiger'

Max Weiss, Imagining Lebanese Nationalism

Send all submissions to:

Arab Studies Journal
CCAS • ICC 241
Georgetown University
Washington, DC 20057
Tel: (202) 687-0904 •
Fax: (202) 687-7001

CALL FOR PAPERS/REVIEWS

The Arab Studies Journal is accepting papers for its Fall 2006 issue. Original work in any social science discipline or literature will be considered for publication. The Journal encourages the submission of papers representing fresh and alternative approaches not sufficiently represented in mainstream scholarship.

For more information and online submissions, visit us at:

www.ARABSTUDIESJOURNAL.org